

United Arab Emirates

Continent: Asia

Languages Spoken: Arabic

Population: 9,900,000

Currency: United Arab Emirates dirham (AED)

Area: 83,600

Main Landmarks:

- {'name': 'Burj Khalifa', 'writeup': 'The tallest building in the world, located in Dubai, symbolizing modern architectural achievement.'}
- {'name': 'Sheikh Zayed Grand Mosque', 'writeup': 'A grand mosque in Abu Dhabi known for its stunning Islamic architecture and capacity to hold over 40,000 worshippers.'}
- {'name': 'Palm Jumeirah', 'writeup': 'An artificial archipelago in Dubai shaped like a palm tree, famous for luxury hotels and residences.'}

Head of State / Government:

President Sheikh Mohamed bin Zayed Al Nahyan

Main Cultural Events:

- {'name': 'Dubai Shopping Festival', 'writeup': 'An annual event featuring shopping deals, entertainment, and cultural performances attracting global visitors.'}
- {'name': 'Abu Dhabi Festival', 'writeup': 'A cultural festival showcasing music, art, and theatre from local and international artists.'}

Food & Cuisine:

Emirati cuisine features dishes like Al Harees, Machboos, and Luqaimat, emphasizing rice, meat, and dates with Middle Eastern spices.

Brief History:

Formed in 1971 from seven emirates, the UAE rapidly developed from a collection of small fishing and pearl diving communities into a wealthy federation driven by oil exports and trade.

Important People:

- Sheikh Zayed bin Sultan Al Nahyan - Founding father and first president
- Sheikh Mohammed bin Rashid Al Maktoum - Vice President and Prime Minister of UAE, ruler of Dubai

Current Conflicts:

The UAE is not involved in any active internal conflicts but participates in regional diplomatic and security initiatives.

Youtube Links:

- Discover UAE: Culture, History, and Modern Wonders
- Top 10 Places to Visit in the United Arab Emirates

- The Rise of Dubai: From Desert to Metropolis
- Traditional Emirati Food and Cuisine Explained
- United Arab Emirates: A Look at Its Economy and Society